APPRENTICE NEWS

If you have been working out of jurisdiction or even in the jurisdiction, you should check to make sure all you contributions have been made on your behalf. To do this you will need to get on the website at www.ibew76necabenefits.org.

Just a reminder, your contributions will not show until approximately the 15th of the following month.

The TI on our new facility should be done around the end of April and we will move into it right after.

The only place to take your welding this summer will be at the South Puget Sound Community College campus.

Bates will offer a welding class in September.

We are excited about starting a new program with our 5th year apprentices. For their second half of 5th year they will be able to "pick" their specialty ranging from Lon Works, Estimating, Conduit Bending, and Foremen classes. Adding these specialty classes will produce a more informed JW.

Once we move into our new facility, we will no longer have the toll free number available due to the usage of cell phones.

Apprentice's on the Job

Jonathan Kays, 2nd year apprentice bending 2" conduit with a Greenlee hydraulic bender. Jonathan is currently working for VECA Electric at St. Anthony's Hospital in Gig Harbor. VECA currently is employing roughly 16 apprentices from our JATC.

TD NEWS

Our move in date into our new facilities is scheduled for May 5th. Due to this, our JW classes in Tacoma will start the week of May 12th. If we are delayed with our move, the classes will be pushed back to the week of the 19th. Check our web site for updates or call the office.

Please make sure to fill out your apprentices work evaluations. The JATC uses this as a gauge on how the apprentice is performing out on the job site. Please be sure and go over the evaluations with them, this is the only way they know what they need to do to improve. It is in the best interest for all of us
